

SECURITY AND SAFETY MEASURES IN SAN DIEGO

As the result of the recent terrorist attacks and the continuing threats, the U.S. Coast Guard Captain of the Port (COTP) San Diego has taken measures to increase the safety and security within the Port of San Diego as well as the surrounding waterways and ports. These measures are necessary to increase public safety and to reduce the threat of sabotage or terrorist acts against military assets, personnel, and property.

These measures include the establishment of security zones under the authority of Title 33 of the U.S. Code Section 1232. Entry into, transiting through, or anchoring in a security zone is prohibited unless specifically authorized by the Coast Guard Captain of the Port (COTP) or a designated representative.

A good general rule should be to stay well away all Naval vessels and bases. The Coast Guard is looking to the boating public and maritime industry to comply with these regulations in a cooperative effort to maintain the safety and security of the waters of San Diego and the surrounding area.

CORONADO BAY BRIDGE SECURITY ZONE

No vessel or person is permitted within 25 yards of all piers, abutments, fenders and pilings unless authorized by the Coast Guard Captain of the Port (COTP).

SAN ONOFRE SECURITY ZONE

No vessel or person is permitted within a one nautical mile radius of the San Onofre Nuclear Power Generating Station authorized by the Coast Guard Captain of the Port. The privately maintained red buoys at San Onofre are well within this zone and should not be approached.

RESTRICTED AREAS (RA)

RA's are not open to swimming, fishing, mooring or anchorage. Vessels entering the restricted area shall proceed across the area by the most direct route possible and without unnecessary delay.

NAVAL VESSEL PROTECTION ZONES

No vessel is permitted within 100 yards of a U.S. Navy vessel, unless authorized by an official patrol. Furthermore, a vessel that is within 500 yards of a U.S. Navy vessel must operate at the minimum speed necessary to maintain a safe course.

CRUISE SHIP SECURITY ZONES

No vessel or person is permitted within 100 yards of any cruise ship entering, moored in, or departing San Diego Bay unless authorized by the Coast Guard Captain of the Port.

PENALTIES FOR VIOLATION:

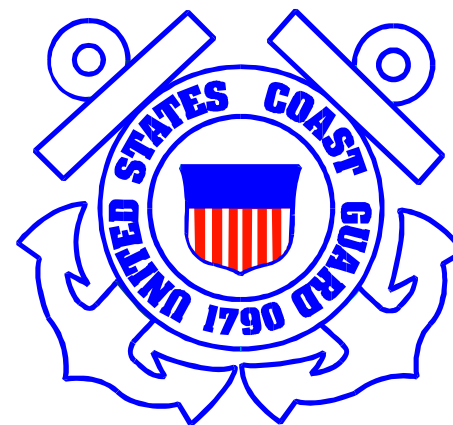

Pursuant to 33 USC 1232, any violation of the security zones described herein, is punishable by civil penalties (not to exceed $27,500 per violation, where each day of a continuing violation is a separate violation), criminal penalties (imprisonment for not more than 6 years and a fine of not more than $250,000), in rem liability against the offending vessel, and license sanctions.
